

TalentPredix™ Strengths Assessment and Practitioner Training

Why use TalentPredix™?

By identifying and amplifying people's strengths and unique differences, the next-generation TalentPredix™ strengths assessment accelerates success and thriving workplaces.

What is TalentPredix™?

By focusing on the strengths and distinctive qualities that enable people to perform at their best and thrive at work, TalentPredix™ transforms the way you hire, develop, and engage talent.

Insights from the assessment improve the quality and retention of hires by identifying diverse people with the right strengths, capabilities and motivational fit to achieve great results.

By clarifying the types of work and development opportunities that are important and motivating for people, TalentPredix™ is equally powerful when used for employee development and retention.

“The assessment is groundbreaking, simple, practical and appropriate for talent management. I would recommend this tool to any talent management professional.”

People Executive

TalentPredix™ uses behavioural science to provide an accurate and reliable measure of people's:
