

Unleash Exceptional talent and Thriving Workplaces with TalentPredix

TalentPredix™ is an award-winning, next-generation strengths assessment used by some of the world's most successful companies, including LVMH, PwC and Samsara. It is the only strengths assessment that identifies and helps employees optimize their combined strengths, motivations, and values.

By uncovering the underlying drivers behind peak performance, career success and thriving at work, TalentPredix™ improves outcomes across the employee life cycle, from recruitment and team building to career development and preparing people for future roles.

Combined with our strengths-based development and consulting solutions, TalentPredix™ unleashes exceptional talent and creates thriving, inclusive, and agile organizations.

 better performance of new hires

ATTRACTION AND HIRING

Using a strengths-based recruitment approach results in superior hires who deliver better performance, increased engagement, and stay longer with the company.

Strengths-based HR practices enhance candidate experiences and your organization's attractiveness in a competitive talent market.

↓ 30%
 decrease in employee turnover

EMPLOYEE RETENTION & DEVELOPMENT

Employees who have opportunities to use their strengths regularly are much less likely to quit.

When individuals are given work and development opportunities aligned with their strengths, employee learning, talent mobility and career outcomes improve.

 increase in employee engagement

EMPLOYEE SATISFACTION, ENGAGEMENT & WELLBEING

When employers value and amplify the diverse strengths of their people, their engagement, satisfaction and wellbeing improve substantially.

Highly engaged employees who experience less negative stress perform better, collaborate more and will go the extra mile for their organization.

 increase in sales and profitability

EXCELLENT CUSTOMER AND BUSINESS OUTCOMES

Strengths-based approaches to talent management contribute to higher customer engagement, loyalty and retention.

Spotlighting and optimizing strengths also boosts productivity, sales, profitability, innovation and other crucial business outcomes.
